

New VRVIII. The intelligent heat recovery system.

The new VRVIII. The smarter system that fits perfectly into our environmentally conscious world.

A system that raises the bar to new levels in energy efficiency and comfort. And it doesn't end there. We've added extended pipe lengths for maximum building coverage. We've increased capacity to boost the number of indoor unit connections. And we've introduced new brazed connections that greatly reduce the risk of refrigerant leakage. It's a piece of advanced engineering that's loaded with innovation. But then that's what you'd expect from Daikin Airconditioning UK – always thinking ahead.
