

NEW BASX

Comfort Ventilation for individual requirements

Introducing the new commercial grade air handling unit from Dantherm, the BasX. The BasX enables you to specify a high quality, value for money ventilation solution for changing rooms, reception areas, gymnasium and restaurant areas, which benefits from the trusted Dantherm values based on experience, knowledge and life long support.

- The modular and flexible approach allows you to customise your solution to meet every project need.
- 10 standard sizes available which produce nominal air flow capacities from 2000m³/h to 45000m³/h.
- Rotary or crossflow heat exchangers, or run around coils provide heat recovery of up to 85%.
- Simple modular construction allows for easy installation and maintenance.
- Constructed from innovative high performance materials to meet stringent new EU legislations.
- Comprehensive service contracts available to prolong the life of the unit.
