

High Efficiency²⁰¹³

When it comes to boosted services within a building you can rely on Wilo to deliver to perfection at all levels.

The introduction of the ErP Directive for energy efficiency (2009/125/EC) on 1 January 2013 will finally mean the end for all boiler-room based energy guzzlers. High-efficiency pumps use up to 90% less electricity than uncontrolled standard pumps! Take your chance to become a pioneer of the next energy change. Show your customers how Wilo high-efficiency pumps can reduce their electricity bills. As well as their CO2 emissions.
